POSTGRADUATE PROGRAM

“Interventional Cardiology” – Call for International Applicants

The School of Medicine of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (NKUA) announces the launch of the Postgraduate Program (MSc) entitled "Interventional Cardiology."

This call invites prospective candidates to submit their application and all required documentation in order to attend the program for the academic year 2026–2027

Courses are scheduled to begin on September 28, 2025.

Upon successful completion of the program, which has a minimum duration of four (4) academic semesters, students will be awarded a Master's Degree (MSc) in Interventional Cardiology.

Eligibility

Applicants must hold a first-cycle university degree (Bachelor's or equivalent) from a Faculty of Medicine or Nursing of a recognized Higher Education Institution (HEI), either from Greece or abroad.

International degrees must be formally recognized in accordance with Article 16 of Law 2327/1995 and other applicable Greek legislation. (Hellenic NARIC)

Tuition Fees

The tuition fees for the entire program amount to €4,000, payable in four (4) equal installments of €1,000, due at the beginning of each academic semester.

Teaching Format

The program is primarily delivered via real-time online (synchronous) learning.

For the academic year 2025–2026, in specific cases and with the approval of the Program's Coordinating Committee, part of the instruction may be conducted via the e-class online platform of the NKUA, which supports asynchronous distance learning.

*It is noted that asynchronous learning will not exceed 25% of the total ECTS credits of the program.
